

Although courts have broad discretion in disposing of motions to strike, such motions “are generally viewed with disfavor because striking a portion of a pleading is a drastic remedy and because it is often sought by the movant simply as a dilatory tactic.” Waste Mgmt. Holdings, Inc. v. Gilmore, 252 F.3d 316, 347 (4th Cir. 2001) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted); see Brown v. Inst. for Family Centered Servs., Inc., 394 F. Supp. 2d 724, 727 (M.D.N.C. 2005) (“Motions to strike are viewed with disfavor and are granted only for egregious violations. Thus, before a motion to strike will be granted, the allegations must be the type envisioned by the rule and prejudicial.”) (citations omitted). “[A]s far as motions to strike pleadings on the basis of immateriality are concerned, a ‘matter will not be stricken from a pleading unless it is clear that it can have no possible bearing upon the subject matter of the litigation.’” N.C. Shellfish Growers Ass’n v. Holly Ridge Assocs., L.L.C., 200 F. Supp. 2d 551, 554 (E.D.N.C. 2001) (quoting Craig Funeral Home, Inc. v. State Farm Mut. Auto Ins. Co., 254 F.2d 569, 572 (5th Cir. 1958)). “A motion to strike places a sizable burden on the movant, and would typically require a showing that denial of the motion would prejudice the movant.” Miller v. Rutherford County, No. 1:08cv441, 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 102779, at *9 (W.D.N.C. Dec. 1, 2008) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted).

III. DISCUSSION

Rule 39(a)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure “authorizes the court to proceed without a jury when it finds that the right to a trial by jury does not exist for the issues presented by the pleadings.” Francis v. Dietrick, 682 F.2d 485, 487 (4th Cir. 1982). Where a case presents only equitable claims, the right to a trial by jury does not exist. See Skippy, Inc. v. CPC Int’l, Inc., 674 F.2d 209, 215 (4th Cir. 1982). Plaintiff seeks only injunctive relief in this action. Therefore, defendant’s jury demand has no bearing on this matter, and such demand will be stricken.

IV. CONCLUSION

IT IS, THEREFORE, ORDERED that Plaintiff's Motion to Strike Defendant's Jury Demand is GRANTED.
